Ethical & Environmental, Social Responsibility

Ladies and gentlemen,

Thank you for your interest in our company's policy related to social and environmental responsibility.

Although ELIX POLYMERS has not formally committed itself to follow the SA 8000 and ISO 26000 standards, we do have ethical codes of conduct compliant with internationally recognized principles and the corresponding legal regulations in Spain.

In the areas of human rights, labour rights, health & safety and environment, ELIX is going to continue having committed itself to the UN Global Compact Initiative of the United Nations, the ICC Business Charter for Sustainable Development and the Responsible Care Initiative of the Chemical Industry.

Thus our codes concerning child labour, forced labour, freedom of association, collective bargaining and discrimination are compliant with the ILO Core Labour Standards and the Global Compact Principles 3-6.

Environmental protection and health & safety are compliant with the Responsible Care Principles, the ICC Business Charter for Sustainable Development and the Global Compact Principles 7-9.

Human Rights are compliant with the Global Compact Principles 1 and 2.
